Dear Park City Planning Commission – I’m a homeowner in Old Town – 15 King Road – and I plan to retire there next year. I bought my home 6 years ago after falling in love with the historical nature of the town – its great access, restaurants, shops, skiing and entire lifestyle. We looked at many “resort” towns throughout Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Utah – but fell in love with Park City. It is not a glitzy over the top resort like most areas – that just cater to vacationers. Park City is a “real” town with a soul and heart like no other.

The Treasure Hill development would destroy this charm that the Planning Commission and Park City has fostered and nourished over the decades. The Treasure Hill development is grotesque – offensive – and completely out of character for the town. It cannot happen! Hopefully you can find a more appropriate location for such a project – but please - do not destroy Old Town!

Respectfully – Jack and Harriet Snyder
